DIGEST

Present law exempts contributions or loans made by a candidate to his own campaign from the current contribution limits. Proposed law limits the amount that a candidate can loan to his own campaign to no more than 10 % of the amount of campaign funds received from any other sources.

Present law exempts contributions or loans made by a candidate to his own campaign from the general prohibitions on contributions and loans to a candidate by holders of licenses and permits related to the gaming industry, or by persons having any interest in such license or permit holders. Proposed law limits the amount that a candidate who is the holder of a license or permit related to the gaming industry, or who has an interest in such license or permit holder, can contribute to his own campaign to no more than 10 % of the amount of campaign funds received from any other sources.

Effective August 15, 2008.
